

At Listening Hearts, we know that you want to experience God every day. In order to do that, you need to recognize God at work in your life. The problem is your life is often chaotic and busy, which makes you feel frustrated and guilty when you realize you missed out on opportunities to recognize and experience God during your day.

We believe experiencing God in your everyday life should be easy and natural. We understand what it's like to feel like you're always in a hurry and you don't have enough time to slow down. That's why we're inviting you to intentionally pause once a week for a gentle, guided discovery of God's activity in your life.

Here's how we do it:

1. We give you two or three questions to review each week.
2. You take ten to fifteen minutes to reflect on the questions before attending the session.
3. We lead you through an immersive, focused listening session with a small group of people who are on the same quest to know and experience God.

Listening Hearts has eight sessions of 60 to 90 minutes each. We will listen to one another, consider a few Bible verses, and pray together each week.

You can stop overlooking God's activity around you and instead identify and contribute to God's work in your world. Let Listening Hearts show you how.
